

SPEAKER NICHOL: Okay, just a moment. (Gavel.) May I please have your attention. Direct your attention to Senator Vickers for a point of personal privilege, please.

SENATOR VICKERS: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I would like to bring to the attention of the body that tonight at eight o'clock on ETV, our ETV network, will be the premier showing of a film that I think has impact on many of the things we have been discussing in here. It is a film that was produced here in Nebraska that talks about the agricultural problems, historically and up-to-date. The name of the program is "Plowing Up A Storm". The producer-director was Mike Farrell and the editor was Jim Underwood who is over here quite a bit with the film crew and they deserve a lot of recognition for this fine film that they are putting together. I would simply urge the body tonight, at 8:00 p.m., those of you who have an opportunity, to catch this presentation on ETV. Thank you, Mr. President.

SPEAKER NICHOL: Thank you.

CLERK: Mr. President, one other item, I have a report of registered lobbyists for the week of January 18 through January 21.

SPEAKER NICHOL: Senator Barrett, are you...(gavel)...are you prepared to go on your resolution? Okay, Mr. Clerk.

CLERK: Mr. President, LR 24 was offered by Senator Barrett. It is found on page 275 of the Journal. (Read.)

SPEAKER NICHOL: Senator Barrett.

SENATOR BARRETT: Thank you, Mr. President, and members of the body. I would call to your attention the resolution found on pages 274 and 275 of the Journal, calling attention to the fact that the late Senator Albert A. Kjar, the son of a homesteader, and a man who served the community of Lexington and the entire State of Nebraska as both a legislator and an agribusiness man, passed away in a care home on January 14 at the age of 94. Albert Kjar was a member of the high school class, graduating class, in Lexington in 1908. He went on to graduate from the School of Agriculture in Lincoln. His roots went very, very deep
